

NOx Synergy™

Supports Healthy Nitric Oxide Levels*

CARDIOVASCULAR HEALTH*

Nitric oxide (NO) is a compound that supports the relaxation of blood vessels and promotes healthy blood flow to tissues.* Healthy blood flow supports the delivery of oxygen and nutrients to organs and tissues throughout the body and helps facilitate the removal of metabolic waste products.* For these reasons, NO plays an important role in cardiovascular health.* Proper blood vessel functioning may support increased blood flow to working muscles.* This may promote proper energy production and athletic performance in the general population.*

NOx Synergy™ is a comprehensive formula designed to support healthy nitric oxide levels, cardiovascular health, and athletic performance.* It is provided in a convenient berry-flavored powder that is easy to mix in water or any other beverage and allows serving size flexibility.* NOx

Synergy™ may help promote healthy blood flow and energy production.*

The comprehensive blend of ingredients in NOx Synergy™ works synergistically to promote healthy blood vessel function.* Arginine, citrulline, and folate (vitamin B9) support NO production in the body.* Vitamin C promotes healthy blood vessel structure and function.* Taurine supports healthy heart function and the proper functioning of blood vessels.* Magnesium and creatine may support healthy blood flow, muscle performance, and energy production.* Grape and apple extracts and glutathione antioxidant status, support relaxed blood vessels and support NO production in the body.*
