

Quercetin Ascorbate

Vitamin C with Bioavailable Water-Soluble Quercetin

QUA100 | Net Wt. 3.5 oz (0.1 lbs) 100 g

Quercetin Ascorbate is a powerful antioxidant blend of vitamin C and quercetin to help support an optimal immune system.* Vitamin C is an essential nutrient found in many fruits and vegetables, such as oranges, red bell peppers, kiwi, broccoli, and strawberries. Quercetin is a plant compound with many health benefits and is found in foods like red onions, apples, olive oil, and dark berries.* Together, vitamin C and quercetin work to support antioxidant status, promote healthy inflammatory responses, and help the body respond to everyday environmental triggers or immune challenges.* This unflavored, easy-to-mix powder can be added to water or any beverage of your choice, making it simple to support your immune system and stay prepared for seasonal changes.*

JUST THE FACTS:

Compare supplement facts to the leading brands

Vitamin C

- As a powerful antioxidant, vitamin C (also known as ascorbic acid) helps protect the body by finding and neutralizing harmful molecules called “free radicals”*
- Well-known for supporting a healthy immune system and promoting balanced inflammatory responses*
- Vitamin C works in harmony with plant compounds, such as quercetin, to support respiratory health and help the body respond to environmental and seasonal challenges*

Quercetin

- About 4X more absorbable than regular quercetin powders — delivered as QuerceSOL[™], which uses a unique delivery technology to help the body better absorb quercetin in powder form; this means the quercetin in Quercetin Ascorbate gives you more of its benefits in just one scoop*
- Supports your body’s natural ability to handle occasional immune challenges and a healthy inflammatory response in the respiratory tract*
- Works to regulate histamines, which are compounds released by a type of immune cell as a normal response to environmental triggers*
